Hang Seng Alerts Customers to Phishing SMS and Fraudulent Hang Seng Website

Hang Seng Bank alerts members of the public to be vigilant against recent phishing SMS messages that purport to be from Hang Seng which may lead them to a fraudulent website using the domain name 'https://hangseng-id[.]me'. The phishing SMS messages use various reasons to prompt recipients to enter personal or account details through the fraudulent website which displays the Bank's logo.

The Bank would like to inform members of the public that it has no connection with these phishing SMS messages and the fraudulent website. Hang Seng will never ask customers to log in to their Personal e-Banking, or to provide personal information such as their HKID number, e-Banking login credentials, credit card credentials or one-time passwords through embedded links, instant messaging apps or similar channels. Members of the public should not access any links when they receive phishing SMS messages related to this fraudulent website and should not disclose any personal or other information to the site.

Below are screen captures of the latest phishing SMS messages and the fraudulent website. The Bank advises members of the public that although these images are representative examples, there may be slight variations on how the fraudulent website may be displayed on their devices.
