The phishing emails use various reasons to prompt recipients to enter personal or account details through the fraudulent website which displays the Bank's logo.

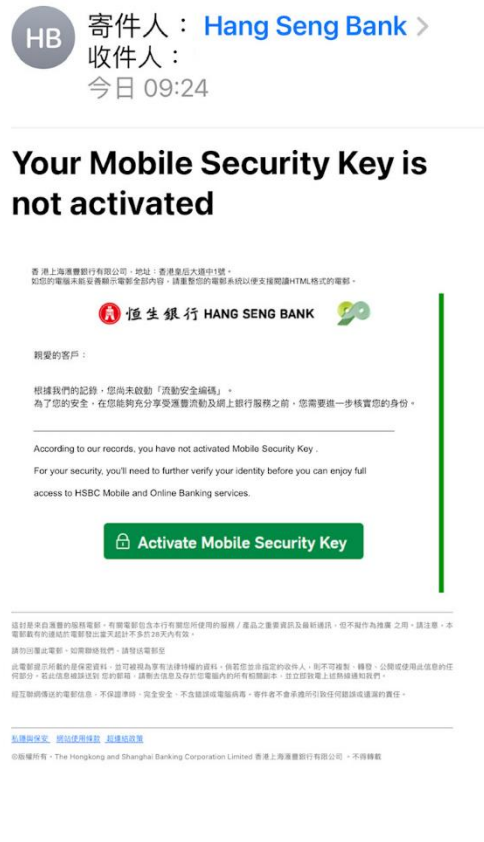

The Bank would like to inform members of the public that it has no connection with these emails and fraudulent website. Hang Seng will never ask customers to log in to their Personal e-Banking, or to provide personal information such as their HKID number, e-Banking login credentials, credit card credentials, one-time passwords, email address or password through embedded links, instant messaging apps or similar channels. Members of the public should not access any links when they receive phishing SMS messages or emails related to fraudulent websites and should not disclose any personal or other information to the sites.

Below are screen captures of the latest phishing emails and website. The Bank advises members of the public that although these images are representative examples, there may be slight variations on how the fraudulent website may be displayed on their devices.

The image displays three sequential screenshots of a fraudulent website designed to mimic the Hang Seng Bank login interface. The top screenshot shows the 'Log on to Hang Seng Personal e-Banking' page, featuring a message about a new login method, a username input field, a 'Continue' button, and links for 'Forgot your Username' and 'Haven't registered for Personal e-Banking'. The middle screenshot shows the 'Password' page, with a password input field, a 'Show' button, a 'Log on' button, and a 'Forgot your password' link. The bottom screenshot shows a 'Loading' screen with a circular progress indicator and the text 'Please wait ...'. All three screenshots include a header with the Hang Seng Bank logo and a footer with various links and disclaimers.

About Hang Seng Bank

Hang Seng Bank is celebrating its 90th anniversary this year. Founded in 1933, Hang Seng Bank has continually innovated to provide best-in-class, customer-centric banking, investment and wealth management services for individuals and businesses. It is widely recognised as the leading domestic bank in Hong Kong, currently serving more than 3.5 million customers.

Combining its award-winning mobile app and strong digital capabilities with a vast network of over 260 service outlets in Hong Kong, Hang Seng offers a seamless omni-channel experience for customers to take care of their banking and financial needs anytime, anywhere.

Its wholly owned subsidiary, Hang Seng Bank (China) Limited, operates a strategic network of outlets in almost 20 major cities in Mainland China to serve a growing base of Mainland customers locally and those with cross-boundary banking needs. The Bank also operates branches in Macau and Singapore, and a representative office in Taipei.

As a homegrown financial institution, Hang Seng is closely tied to the Hong Kong community. It supports the community with a dedicated programme of social and environmental initiatives focused on future skills for the younger generation, sustainable finance and financial literacy, addressing climate change and caring for the community.

Hang Seng is a principal member of the HSBC Group, one of the world's largest banking and financial services organisations. More information on Hang Seng Bank is available at www.hangseng.com.
