Prior to making a mortgage arrangement, you should take into account of any foreseeable future changes to your financial circumstances (such as retirement occurring before the end of the loan term). You should only borrow if you have the financial means to cope with potential risk that may arise from changes in the economic and market conditions affecting property prices as well as changes in your circumstances. In the event of decline in property prices, your property may be in negative equity, meaning the property value falls below the amount you still owe on your mortgage. Please consult your independent financial adviser for advice.
